

Dear Dornier 228 Friends and Family,

From the natural paradise of ice and snow in northern Canada to the vast Congo Basin – the latest LoveDornier228 issue dives into ecological topics, meets families who have settled in Africa as volunteers, reports about extraordinary pilots and about people who make the Dornier 228 what it is today.

Thank you to all the passionate people who share your experiences with us so we can pass them on. Experience the incredible stories and enjoy this freshly published issue of the LoveDornier228 Magazine.

Your LoveDornier228 Magazine Team

Passionate Pilot Maxie Plante

At the end of the road

Pilot Training

From balancing on barrels to full flight simulation

Master upholsterer
Walter Devic

“If the tone is right, we know that we’ve done a good job”

Non-profit organization LaOlam in the Congo

To the world for eternity

The vast Congo basin
The second lung

Dornier 228 in the wind tunnel

What makes aerodynamics
so crucial

Together
ahead. RUAG