Championing a winning feeling

How do you approach winning in your role at RUAG?

Helping our customers to succeed is a victory for our team. I defend their priorities by listening and then applying my competitive drive.

What do you enjoy the most about your role at RUAG?

I have the authority and freedom to steer our technology and products in completely new directions. Our cutting-edge systems reflect our proactive approach to shifting and evolving combat arenas.

What challenges you most in your work?

Providing a vital competitive advantage for both our customers and our business by aligning on performance, transparency and affordability.

How do you meet the challenge?

We focus on success on all fronts. We have well-honed teams. We target customer solutions at highest quality and fidelity. Our competitive approach ensures affordability.

What made you want to work in S&T?

I love competing and knowing that what we do matters. Hearing from our customers, learning how training has helped them to prepare and then triumph in challenging situations, motivates me.
